An icon of understated elegant design

An elegant, graceful writing desk in 5,000 year old Bog Oak, whose entire top slides sideways to reveal a hidden well, lined with parchment-coloured Moroccan leather. Atop the desk sits a Chinese yellow lacquer pen box, covered by an extension of Bog Oak.

Glissade is a tribute to 18th century cabinet makers who used writing desks to display the refinement of their skills. The careful matching of the grain shows a balance and consistency of tone, which is only matched by the soft curves flowing in and out of the top, both just as delicate to attain.

Glissade is also available in light rippled ash wood.
